

Rain Rain Rain

Throughout the region rain has virtually stopped the harvest this week.

From the current weather forecast, picking should get back into full gear this Saturday, with about four days remaining to complete the harvest.

The fruit remains in good condition with all picking planned out to the end of harvest.

Gold harvest was completed on Thursday 20 May, which was an excellent end date with the fruit harvested in good condition and having good pressures.

With packhouses running short of product, post harvest is taking the opportunity to work through the hailed lines and get them cleared before picking starts again.
